

Faerie Cara

Faerie Cara has been an international entertainment enchantress at festivals and private functions for over thirteen years. Bringing her charismatic flair and passion for environmental awareness, she is an advocate for children's development through tradition fun and conscious entertainment.

A rare contribution to the community, she provides timeless entertainment through expression, dance, music, storytelling and theatre. Coming from a family of Irish storytellers, Faerie Cara studied in performing arts, folklore, natural medicine and dance to become the outstanding performer that she is today.

Creating headlines for her constant waves of eco-conscious events and social activities, Faerie Cara has fast become a popular entertainer. As a published author and community television advocate for environment awareness on the program 'The Couch' that shows on Foxtel and Austar channel Aurora. She is regarded as "a rare beauty and important role model for young children."
