

Alida Wright

Alida Wright is without doubt one of Perth's most new and exciting vocalists. Originally from from outback NSW, Alida's style is predominately bluesy, soulful lament but also encompasses everything from jazz through to gospel, funk and beyond.

At the age of seventeen, Alida's passion for singing developed when she became the proud owner of a Morris Minor 1000 with no stereo. She began her professional musical career also in unusual circumstances for a jazz singer, when she won the 'Best New Talent' award, at the Derby Country Music Festival (2000) in northern Western Australia.

Alida is available as a jazz duo, trio, quartet, quintet and is suitable for all events including weddings and corporate functions.
