

Dame Edna

Hello Possums!!, Being Australia's leading ambassador for so so many years and traveling the world to play host at manyt major gala events which include my dealings with the Royal Family, Norm & myself have finally decided to settle down in the West as one gets tired of the poor weather conditions back in Melbourne. I've always felt a compassion for you poor people and how you have missed out on seeing all the big superstars and just for a little extra income, outside of my bingo hosting and selling gladioli's I've decided to treat you with guests appearances and hosting for your special event.
